

D. C. BATHING GARB CENSOR IS LENT

Washington Nymphs Not Hampered in Swimming by Prudish Restrictions.

Washington is as broad as its thoroughfares in its views pertaining to the garb of nymphs while they are splashing in the "deep."

Just because the eternal feminine is weighted with the beautiful there is no reason she should be encumbered with manifold pleats, folds, flounces and what-nots when she takes to the habitat of the mermaid. This is the opinion expressed by Dr. Sidney Cousins, superintendent of the municipal bathing pools.

Washington has but one regulation in this respect—mildly must wear two-piece suits at the time when mixed bathing is being indulged. This suit may be of the masculine type, shirt and trousers or it may be of an other modest feminine design which the wearer selects.

Anent the length of the skirts and of the shirts, in event that the fair wearer shows a preference for the male cut, there is no prescribed limit. This is left to the superintendent of the pools and his assistants.

Modesty Best Policy.

And it is the unwritten law with these mentors to follow the moral that "modesty is the best policy" when considering women's water wraps.

Dr. Cousins concurs with the authorities of the Chicago municipal bathing beaches, and the censors of feminine swimming apparel in Boston and elsewhere. Chicago's regulations decree that "women and girls must wear skirt and bloomer suit stockings are not obligatory, and for cleanliness, comfort, and ease in swimming may be better dispensed with."

So say the Washington regulations with respect to hose. It is better for the majority who are swimming in the pools that no stockings should be worn, say the authorities. It is also better from more than one viewpoint in that the less clothing worn by the bathers in the municipal pool, the cleaner the water can be kept.

The local authorities, like the Chicago superintendent of municipal beaches are following out the theory that "the conduct of the wearer has a lot more to do with morality than the bathing suit itself."

One-Piece Suit Barred.

The one-piece bathing suit is barred at the municipal pools here on mixed bathing days—that is, it is taboo where the form of the wearer is not divine enough to warrant no more than the ordinary swimming or commendation.

Seek to Avoid Rush.

In cases where the wearing of the suit of Kellerman or one-piece variety does not attract unusual attention, in other words, where the wearer is that type of Venus who can wear one of the tight-fitting with modesty, there is no objection made.

But the superintendent and the guards have keen eyes. They realize that some might be crushed in the rush of spectators should their vision of the suits broaden too much. Major Pullman's force of policemen is limited, and, after all, to use the words of Superintendent Cousins, "modesty is the best policy."

NAVY BILL FIGHT MEANS QUORUM CALL

Members of House May Be Recalled to Washington.

Absentee members of the House who are at home attending to political fences may be called back to Washington within the next few days on account of the impending fight over the naval appropriation bill. Hopes of these members that they might be permitted to remain at home until adjournment are jeopardized by the row between the big-navy and small-navy advocates in the lower chamber and the practical certainty that the conference report will be adopted without a call for a quorum.

From both sides of the controversy have come threats that a quorum must be in Washington when the conference report is presented. The conferees soon will finish their work on the greatest naval budget in the history of the country. Congressman Britten, minority member of the Naval Affairs Committee, threatens that if conferees meddle with the personnel legislation and the building program, as provided in the Senate bill, he will fight the conference report and insist upon a roll call.

Congressman Cox and Congressman Buchanan are taking the opposite tack. Mr. Cox says he will attempt to block the bill unless the conferees change the personnel provisions, and Congressman Buchanan, along with a number of other "small-navy" men, is preparing for the trench warfare against the big building program of the Senate.

TAKES DEATH LEAP FLEEING POLICEMAN

Man Jumps From 80-Foot Bridge to Avoid Arrest.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 31.—Trying to elude a policeman today, Frank Runk, thirty years old, jumped eighty feet from a bridge spanning the Ohio river at Woods Run. He missed the water, and was dashed to death.

Runk had been found fighting by Policeman Patrick Clark. He fled and, pursued by the policeman, ran out on the side of the bridge and stood for a moment on a girder. Clark yelled to him not to jump, but he seemed to work to increase his fright. He let go and landed several feet from the water's edge.

Diseases That Show In Your Face?

It matters not how little confidence we may have in our ability as mind readers, all of us by life-long practice are face-readers. A considerable part of our attitude toward our fellows is determined by what we see in their faces. Most of us have become surprisingly accurate face-readers in regard to moral and emotional tendencies. And we also read just as well when the face indicates either internal or external disease. The tense, drawn features indicating continued pain from some internal ailment, or the breaking out of one of the many skin diseases, which speak only too plainly for themselves, because most, if not all skin diseases show on the face sooner or later. Impure, impoverished or impaired blood are the prime causes of

The number of deaths in other cities throughout the Middle West as a result of the heat, is not obtainable. It is estimated, however, that they will add at least 150 to list.

Milwaukee alone reported twenty-two dead yesterday. Sunday was Milwaukee's hottest day in forty-five years. It was 102 degrees by the government thermometer.

A temperature of 101.7 was recorded in Chicago, a record since 1901, when the mercury registered 102.9 degrees. So great was the jam at bathing beaches here that police reserves were called out to clear the streets leading to the beaches.

Gary, Ind., was the hottest place on the map, with 116 degrees. Three died from the heat there.

At San Francisco the temperature was 82, it was comparatively cool along the border. El Paso and San Antonio, Tex., each registered 88.

ANNAPOLIS HIGHWAY HEARING ON AUG. 19

Maryland Commissioner Will Hear Washington Advocates of National Defense Road.

Maryland State Roads Commissioner Zorick has designated Saturday, August 19, for a hearing of those interested in the construction of a national defense highway, connecting Washington with Annapolis.

Among those who will speak in favor of the proposed construction of such a road will be C. C. Magruder, Congressman Sydney E. Mudd of Maryland, Osborne I. Yellot, Edridge E. Jordan, Thomas P. Littlepage, and Frank M. Duvall.

A petition recently was sent to the Maryland State Road Commission, in which it was stated that by a recent act of the Maryland legislature such a road was authorized and $125,000 was appropriated for its construction.

Since then Congress has passed a bill providing for construction of State roads with the help of the Federal Government. This appropriation was $2,000,000.

The signers of the petition have urged the commission to take advantage of this recent appropriation and begin the construction of the road immediately.

The seventy-two signers of the petition include the heads of the largest business houses and banking firms of this city as well as many prominent property owners of Maryland.
